

Paul Fisher

Contact Information:

Institute for Social and Economic Research
University of Essex
Wivenhoe Park
Colchester
C04 3SQ

RESEARCH INTERESTS

I am interested in a variety of areas in applied economics. Ongoing research covers: labour economics, economic demography, health economics, and public economics. I am also interested in the design, collection and analysis of survey data, particularly with regard to the measurement of household living standards.

CURRENT POSITION

Research Fellow (since October 2017), Institute for Social and Economic Research, University of Essex

PREVIOUS POSITIONS

Senior Research Officer (2013-2017), Institute for Social and Economic Research, University of Essex

EDUCATION

PhD Economics, Oct 2007-2013, University of Essex, Colchester, UK.

MSc Economics, Oct 2006-07, University of Essex, Colchester, UK.

BSc Economics, Oct 2002-June 05, University of Leicester, Leicestershire, UK.

GRANTS, SCHOLARSHIPS AND AWARDS

'The effects of a tailored health warning on socio-economic behaviours and health outcomes' (Co-Investigator; Funded by ESRC) 2016

'Poverty across ethnic groups through recession and austerity' (Co-Investigator; Funded by Joseph Rowntree Foundation; £23,961) 2014

ESRC(+3) award for PhD study (with stipend for training in Advanced Quantitative Methods)

'Best Paper from a Young Economist', July 2011, UK Conference of Labour Economists (WPEG)

'Teaching Assistant Prize: Outstanding Performance in Teaching', July 2011, University of Essex

PUBLISHED PAPERS

"Does repeated measurement improve income data quality?" forthcoming, Oxford Bulletin of Economics and Statistics

"Dif-in-Dif Estimators of Multiplicative Treatment Effects" with Emanuele Ciani, forthcoming, Journal of Econometric Methods

"British Tax Credit Simplification, the Intra-household Distribution of Income and Family Consumption", Oxford Economic Papers, 2016, 68(2), 444–464

WORK IN PROGRESS

“Income and fertility in the long-run” with Sonia Bhalotra

“Can summary screens improve income reporting in surveys?” with Tom Crossley and Alessandra Gaia

“The effects of a tailored health warning on socio-economic behaviours and health outcomes” with Sonia Bhalotra, Adeline Delavande, Jonathan James

“Another Look at whether the Rich Save More: Evidence from a Survey Experiment” with Tom Crossley and Alessandra Gaia and Mike Brewer and Jonn Burton and Annette Jackle and Joachim Winter

COURSES AND SUMMER SCHOOLS

Panel Data Methods, Jeffrey M. Wooldridge, May 2017, cemmap (IFS), London, UK

Matching Models of the Marriage Market, March 2011, Pierre Andre Chiappori, cemmap (IFS), London, UK

Empirical Strategies Part II by Joshua Angrist, June 2010, University of Tor Vergata, Italy

Empirical Strategies by Joshua Angrist, June 2009, Univeridade do Minho, Braga, Portugal

CONFERENCE AND SEMINAR PRESENTATIONS

Royal Economic Society, March 2018, University of Sussex, UK

European Association of Labour Economists, September 2017, St. Gallen, Switzerland

European Society for Population Economics, June 2017, Glasgow, Scotland

International Association for Research in Income and Wealth conference, August 2016, Dresden, Germany

Family Finance Surveys User Conference, July 2016, Royal Statistical Society, London

Work and Pensions and Labour Economics Study Group, July 2016, University of Sheffield

Understanding Household Finance through Better Measurement workshop, March 2016, University of Essex

Institute for Fiscal Studies seminar, December 2015, London

Understanding Society Scientific Conference, July 2015, University of Essex, UK

European Association of Labour Economists, September 2013, Turin, Italy

Royal Holloway PhD Conference, April 2012, Royal Holloway University of London, UK

Work Pensions and Labour Economics (WPEG), July 2011, University of Sheffield, UK

European Society for Population Economics, June 2011, Hangzhou, China

European Society for Population Economics, June 2010, Essen, Germany

TEACHING EXPERIENCE

Graduate Teaching Assistant

University of Essex

Oct 07-June 2012

Courses taught: Dissertation Support Class (masters and final year undergrad), Project Lecture (final year undergrad), Econometric Methods (final year undergrad), Microeconomics (2nd year undergrad), Mathematical Methods (2nd year undergrad), Introduction to Economics (macroeconomics)(first year undergrad)

Senior Teaching Assistant

University of Essex

Oct 09-June 2012

Courses taught: Econometrics (2nd year undergrad)