Inside left leaf

The Living in Newham survey aims to improve our understanding of what is happening in the lives of people in Newham in the 21st century. By taking part in the Living in Newham survey, you will be helping to improve your local borough. The information you, and hundreds of others provide, will allow us to answer some of the most important policy questions on how to improve housing, education, health, social services and employment prospects within your area. The Living in Newham survey is similar to a larger survey called the Living in Britain survey so we will be able to compare people's circumstances in Newham with other areas of the country. This leaflet gives the answers to some questions you may have about the survey. Many thanks for your time and help with the survey.

Who is running the Living in Newham survey?

The survey is being run by a research team at the Institute for Social and Economic Research (ISER) at the University of Essex, Colchester in co-operation with Newham council. ISER is an academic research unit responsible for running the Living in Newham survey and the survey is funded by the London Borough of Newham and the Neighbourhood Renewal Funding Programme in Newham.

What is the Living in Newham survey about?

The survey is being carried out to get facts and figures about the changes taking place in people's lives and to understand how these changes affect all our lives and the society we live in. We are interested in a range of questions about employment, health, family life and people's opinions on important social issues. For example: Are people better or worse off than they used to be? How does poor health affect employment opportunities? Are young people getting enough training? Are retired people managing on their pensions? Are health services meeting people's needs? How is family life changing and what do people think about these changes? The Living in Newham survey will enable researchers to analyse and begin to answer these and many other important questions.

How were you chosen?

All the households taking part in the survey have been selected at random from a list of all residential addresses in Newham. These selected households, taken together, represent the entire population of Newham. This means that you now represent, statistically speaking, the situation and views of hundreds of other households. Because your address was selected at random, we cannot substitute the address next door or down the road. Since you cannot be replaced by anyone else, your participation in this study is vitally important so that we represent all people living in the borough. We do hope you can spare the time to help us.

How many people are being asked to take part?

The Living in Newham survey will interview around 2,000 people in 1,000 households across the whole of Newham. The survey will be large enough to represent the entire population of Newham so that the different circumstances of all types of people in the borough are represented within the survey.

What will you be asked to do?

Your interviewer will ask to speak to you and everyone in your household aged 16 and over. Your interviewer will ask you about some of the key areas of life, such as housing, health, family relationships, employment, pensions, and your views on society. The interview will last between 45 minutes and one hour per person. One person will also be asked a short 10 minute questionnaire to collect some general information about the household as a whole.

If you would like to be interviewed by a different interviewer please contact us at the Freephone number below and we will arrange this for you. If you would like to be interviewed in a language other than English, please call us to let us know or tell the interviewer when they call and we will arrange this.

The interviewer will have a £5 gift voucher to give to each person who is interviewed and we hope you will accept this as a token of our thanks for your help with the survey.

As one of the main purposes of the survey is to track the changes people experience in their lives over time, we would like to return to interview you again next year. If at that time you decide you do not wish to take part, you will of course be free to opt out. Whether or not you continue with the survey next year, we very much want to interview you this year to provide us with the most accurate data possible on people's lives and circumstances in Newham today.

What will happen to the information you give?

The data will be used by researchers at the University of Essex and by the research department of the Borough. The data will be for statistical analysis and research only. The data will provide the facts and figures which are needed for planning social policy and suggesting improvements in local policies for areas such as education, housing, health and employment.

We shall be sending a short report of some of the findings of the survey to every participant in Spring 2003.

Will the information you give be confidential?

We guarantee that all the information you give us will remain completely confidential. Nothing will ever be published that would enable you, or members of your family, to be identified. Your name and address will never be given to any outside person or organisation including any commercial organisation, government agency or department. ISER operates under the rules of the Data Protection Act. A strictly confidential record of your personal details will be maintained by ISER and you will be free at any time to request to see these details or to have them removed.

How can you find out more?

If you would like more information about the Living in Newham survey or our research, please call us on Freephone 0800 252 853. We will be very pleased to hear from you and will try and help in whatever way we can. Or if you prefer, you can write to the Freepost address given below.

Thank you for your help

Thank you for taking the time to read this leaflet. It will help us if you leave it in a place where every adult in your household will be sure to see it.

We do hope you will take part in the Living in Newham survey. Without your help, this important and exciting research project would not be possible.
